Dear Stakeholder,

Re: Consultation on Market Authorisation of 10 Regulated Food and Feed Products
December 2024

We would like to make you aware that the Food Standards Agency (FSA) has launched a public consultation seeking stakeholders' views, comments and feedback in relation to:

- a new specification of an existing permitted food additive
- a new use for an existing permitted feed additive
- a new authorisation for one food flavouring
- removal of 8 food flavourings (one application covering eight food flavourings)
- a new authorisation for one Food Contact Material (FCM)
- 3 new authorisations for 3 Genetically Modified Organisms (GMOs) for food and feed uses
- a new authorisation of one novel food and an extension of use of an existing novel food

Access FSA Consultation: Consultation on Market Authorisation of 10 Regulated Food and Feed Products December 2024 | Food Standards Agency

Responses to this consultation should be submitted via the online survey. If this is not possible, you can email a response to:

Email: RPconsultations@food.gov.uk

The deadline for responses is 19 February 2025

Food Standards Scotland will also be publishing this consultation in January 2025 for stakeholders in Scotland. When their consultation launches, it can be found here: https://consult.foodstandards.gov.scot/consultation_finder/

Following the consultation process, responses will be made available on the FSA website and shared with Ministers.
